

CalCannabis Appellations Project Fact Sheet

In 2016, the California Legislature directed the California Department of Food and Agriculture (CDFA) to:

- 1) Establish standards by which licensed cultivators may designate a county of origin for cannabis.
- 2) Establish a process by which licensed cultivators may establish appellations for standards, practices, and varieties applicable to cannabis grown in a certain geographic area in California.

In 2018, CDFA established the CalCannabis Appellations Project to expand on county of origin regulations and create a statewide appellations system.

Discussion Topics

- What benefits do you hope to receive by establishing and using a cannabis appellation in California?
- Do you have concerns about the use of state cannabis appellations? If so, what are they?
- What fees (if any) would be acceptable for establishing a cannabis appellation?
- Who should determine the boundaries and requirements for each appellation?
- What requirements (if any) should apply to all state-regulated appellations?
- How can the county of origin standards be expanded upon? Consider issues such as implementation, compliance, and labeling.
