

Downtown Streetscape Project

April 17, 2020

This weeks' construction updates:

Potholing - April 20-May 1

Phase One (underground utilities) of the Downtown Streetscape Project begins this week with "potholing". Potholing is a vacuum-method of excavation that allows the contractor to visually observe the underground utilities prior to construction.

This week's (April 20-24) construction FAQ's answered:

Where will the work occur? Potholing will be conducted throughout the project area, which includes State Street between Mill and Henry, and Perkins and Standley between State and School Streets.

Will there be night work? No. There is no night work scheduled this week.

Will there be dust and noise? Yes. There will be some dust and intermittent disruptive noise (similar to jackhammering).

Will there be any disruptions to parking access or streets? Yes. There will be traffic control in the immediate areas of the work, which will also be associated with some parking impacts.
